

POLICY FOR THE SECURITY AND ENVIRONMENT HEALTH OF LATI S.p.A. Production sites of VEDANO OLONA and GORNATE OLONA

Since LATI obtained its first environmental certification (1995, BSI/7750) ten years on, we think that it is right to outline the situation regarding the intense work carried out up to now. It is beyond doubt that the environmental and security policy has been pivotal to the company choices both in strategic terms and in everyday administration for the last few years.

However, besides the undeniable results obtained in our company, the contribution for a new cultural and fundamental development regarding environmental and security themes, even outside the company, has given us satisfaction not only from the point of view of corporate image but it has also let us understand that this is the correct way to undertake, in spite of the difficulties involved.

For these reasons, from the very beginning Lati has committed itself to respecting the legislation in force in the environmental and safety field, to carrying out measures for pollution prevention and to continually seek incentives for constant improvement regarding environmental safety themes and workers'health.

Lati S.p.A. commits itself to:

1. Introducing and carrying out systems to improve and control air and water quality.
2. Reducing or at least controlling the waste material production.
3. Improving the working environment for the protection of health.
4. Substituting dangerous raw materials with less dangerous ones.
5. Controlling the external and internal noise level.
6. Promoting, in the company, a sense of responsibility with training and information courses about environment and safety.
7. Estimating in advance all raw material purchases that can affect the workers' environment, health and safety.
8. Adopting the necessary precautions and instructions to prevent or eliminate risks for the workers' safety and health.
9. Planning improvement interventions in the safety and environmental field.
10. Keeping the environmental and safety indicators under control.
11. Re-examining environmental aims and goals.

Therefore our primary goal consists of circulating this policy defined by the management, in order to acquaint all persons working in our company, included our Customers, Suppliers, Local Authorities, Citizens, Watch Committee and Trade Associations.
